

EUROASSEKURANZ Versicherungsmakler AG currently employs some 130 people at its offices in Regensburg, Munich and Frankfurt am Main. The internationally oriented company is closely networked with the global Hyperion Insurance Group through a strategic partnership. As an independent insurance broker, we help companies to identify and manage their risks and to design the insurance solution they need.

We would like to fill the following vacancy at our Frankfurt am Main office at the earliest opportunity:

Junior liability insurance expert (m/f/x).

Your work will include

- Responsibility for managing ongoing policies and claims
- Providing expert advice to customers in liability insurance and related areas
- Managing international insurance programmes
- Overseeing claims from initial notice to final settlement
- Involvement in activities for ongoing optimisation of business processes

Successful candidates will have:

- Professional experience as an insurance and finance specialist (m/w/d) or similar qualification
- Further training as an insurance expert (m/w/d) an advantage
- At least two years' on-the-job experience in the liability department of an insurance company or insurance broker
- Good command of written and spoken English
- Strong customer focus and communication skills
- Social skills and ability to work as part of a team
- Good IT skills, particularly in MS office applications

What we offer you

- A team-oriented working environment at a successful company
- Flat hierarchies and short decision-making channels
- Personal mentor during induction phase
- Attractive performance-based salary
- Wide range of training and development options
